

Paris Hilton's British Best Friend show selects Canine Couture

iTV's forthcoming programme 'Paris Hilton's British Best Friend', which sees Paris Hilton travelling to the UK to find a best friend in London, has selected CanineCoutureStore.com to supply products from their extensive Canine range of gifts and toys for the show.

The products, which include Toys, Diamanté Collars, a Krisybelle bed, Pucci Handbags and Hair clips will feature in the show, alongside Paris Hilton's chihuahua, who she is rarely seen without.

The order from iTV is a wonderful boast for the Scunthorpe-based Canine Couture, owned by Lorraine Goy, a owner herself of 3 dogs - including a chihuahua!

Lorraine said "the phone call came out of the blue, it's not every day you hear from a national television company, wishing to purchase goods from you for a high profile programme such as Paris Hilton's British Best Friend."

Lorraine added "it has been a wonderfully exciting week, first the iTV order, and then I received a request from the Sunday Telegraph for a range of products for a photo shoot they are producing."

Canine Couture are not new to the limelight of fame. A number of wives and girlfriends of the Scunthorpe Football team have purchased products for their pets, treating them to a number of items from Canine Couture's range.

Lorraine added "people like to give their pets the best, and Canine Couture stock the top ranges within the Canine accessory and clothing industry. These include well-known brands such as Pucci, the Canine equivalent of the Gucci fashion range.

Today's pet owner wants to make sure their beloved pets are treated to the best that money can buy, and from elegant dog leads and collars to the plush beds for your canine friend, we stock everything you could ever think of to pamper your pooch."
